

The cat's feast

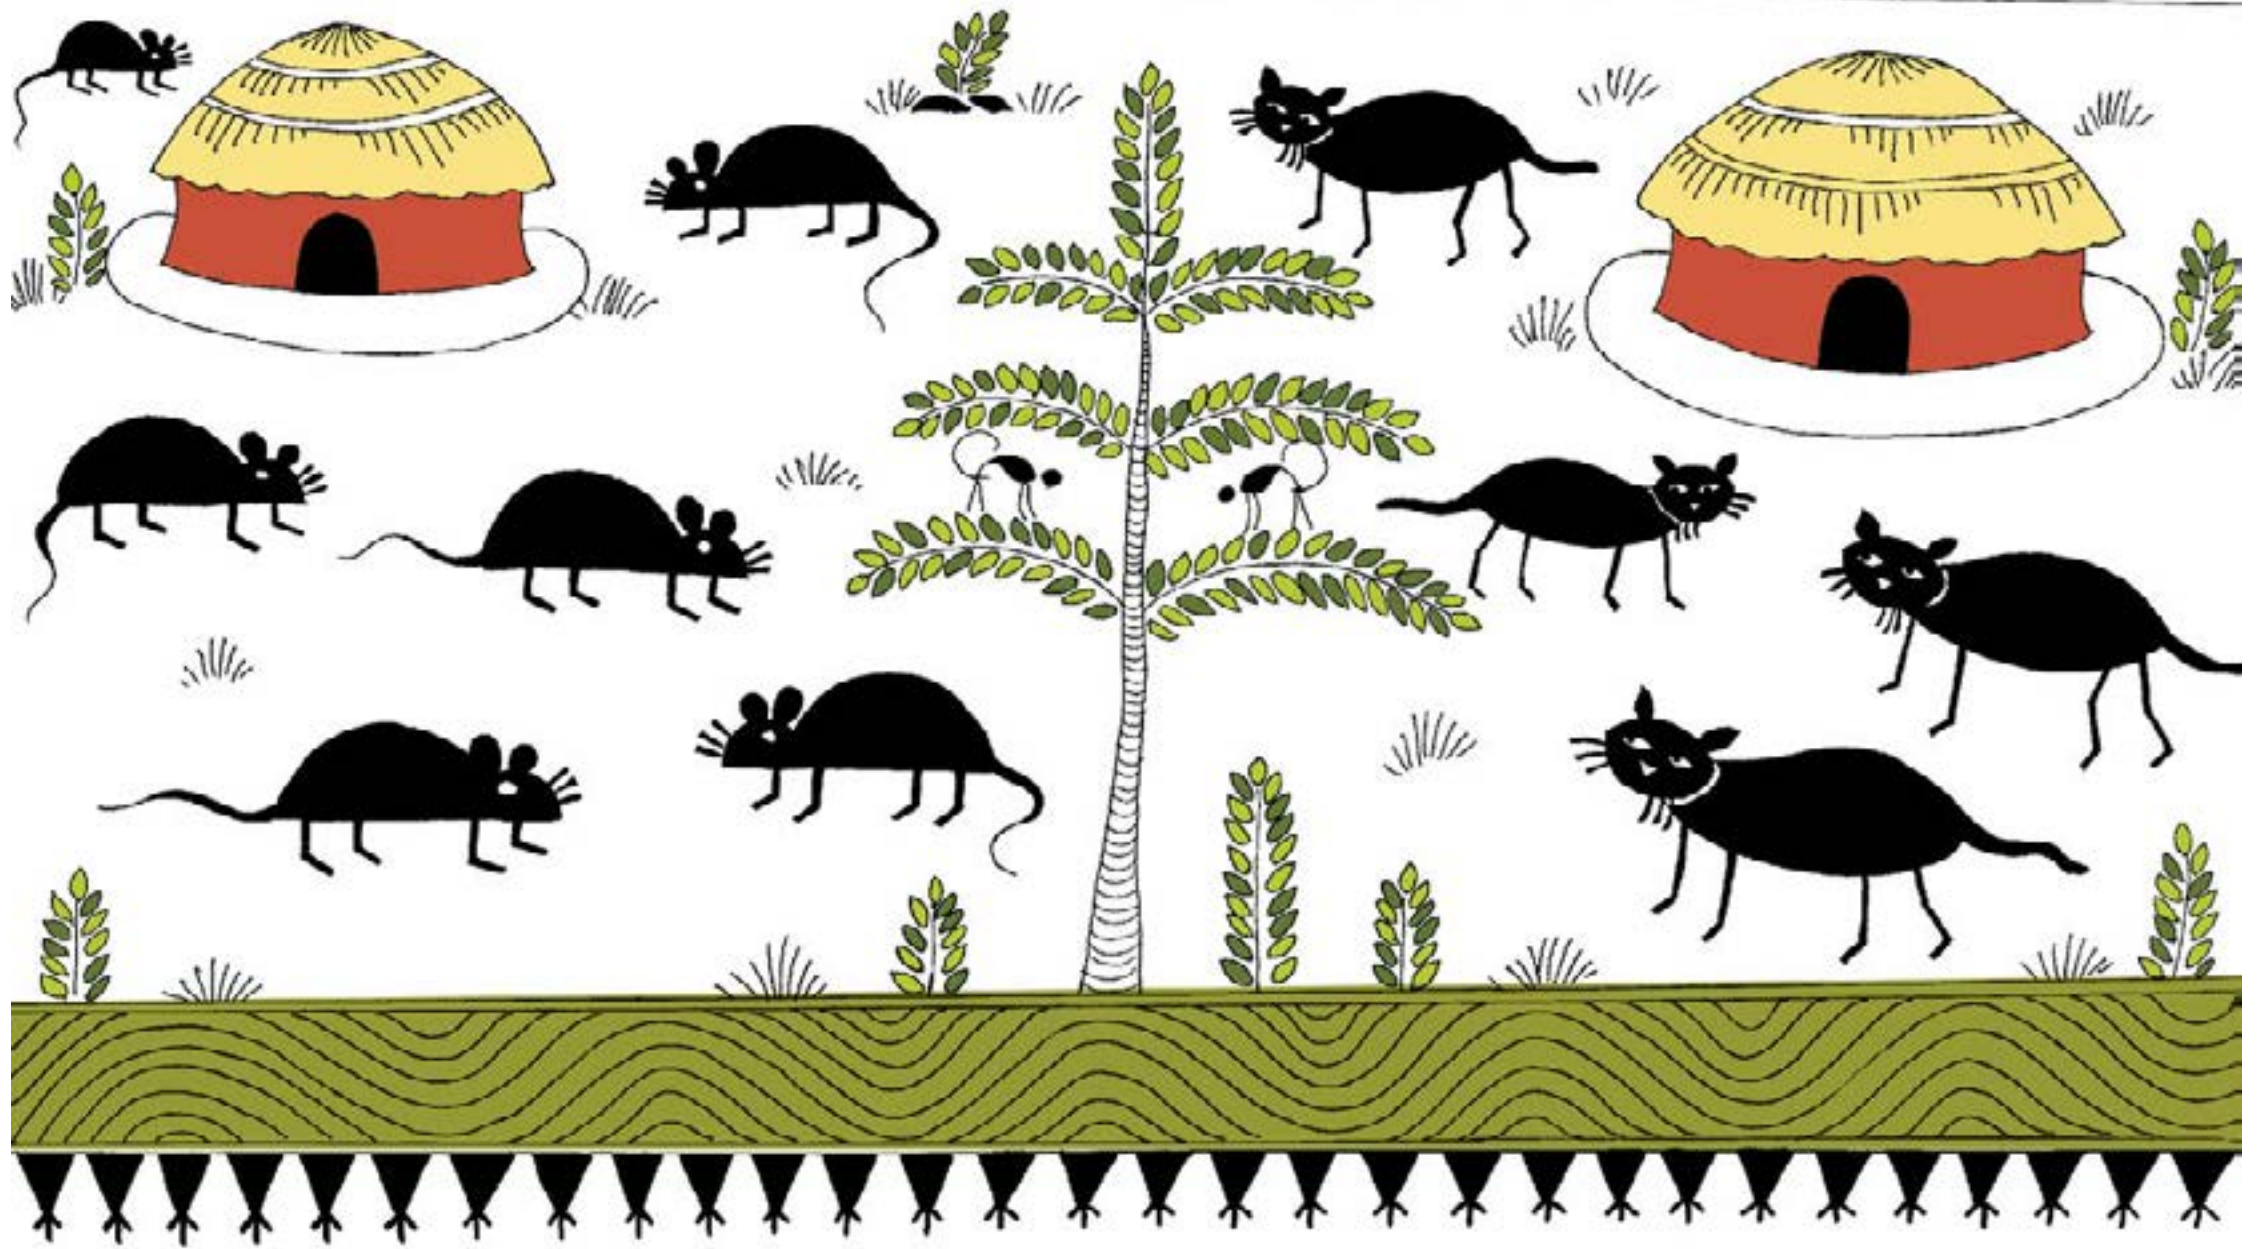

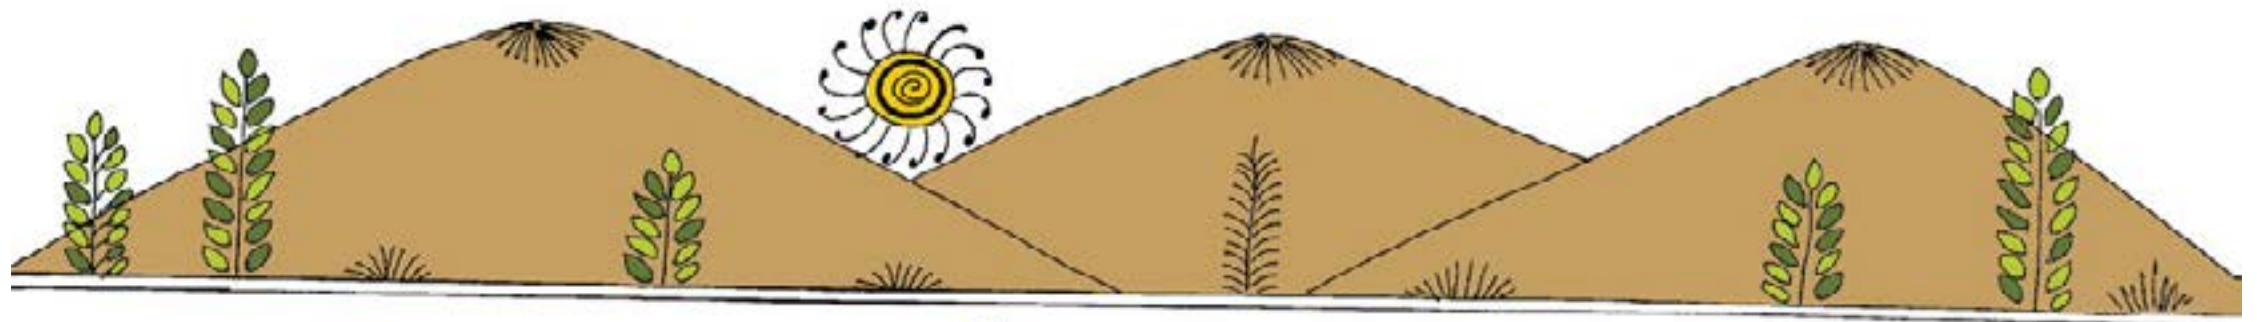

The cat's feast

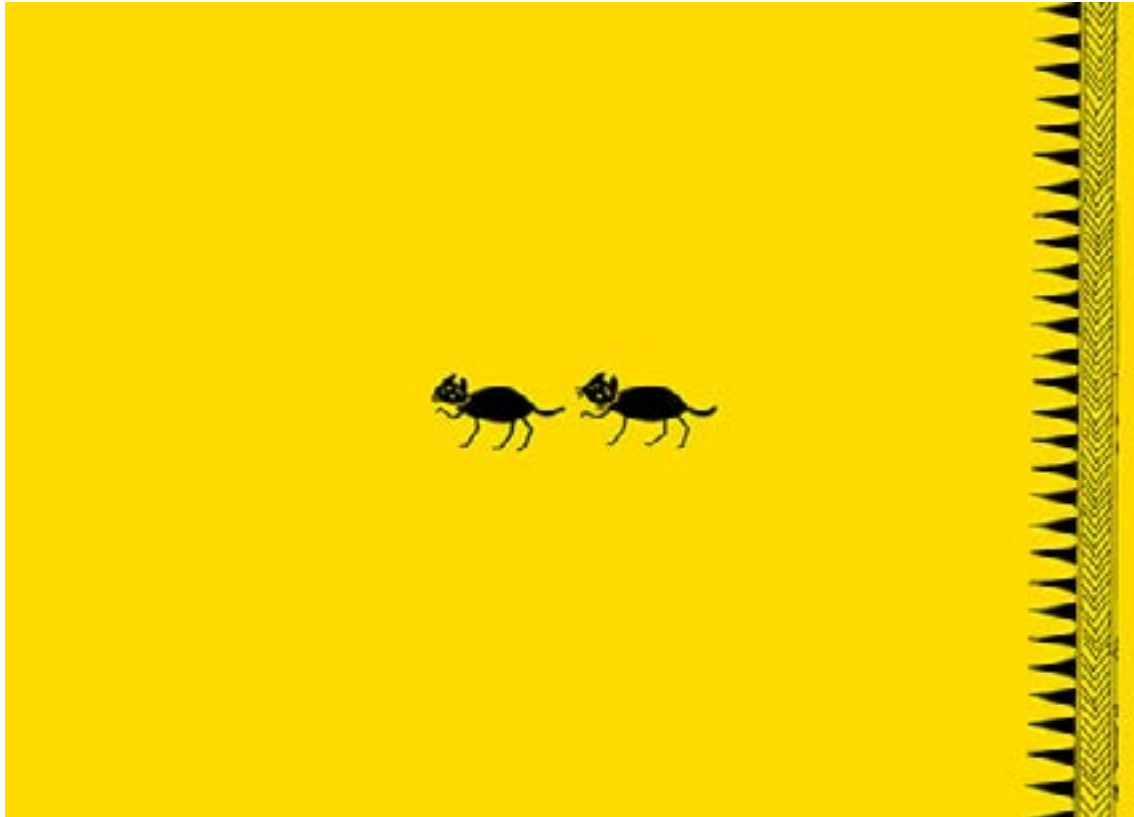

Author : Saura Writers' Group
Illustrator : Kusha Kumar Barik
Translator : Anurag

published by Pratham Books under a CC
BY 4.0 license on StoryWeaver

Adaptation réalisée par Marie-Laure Besson

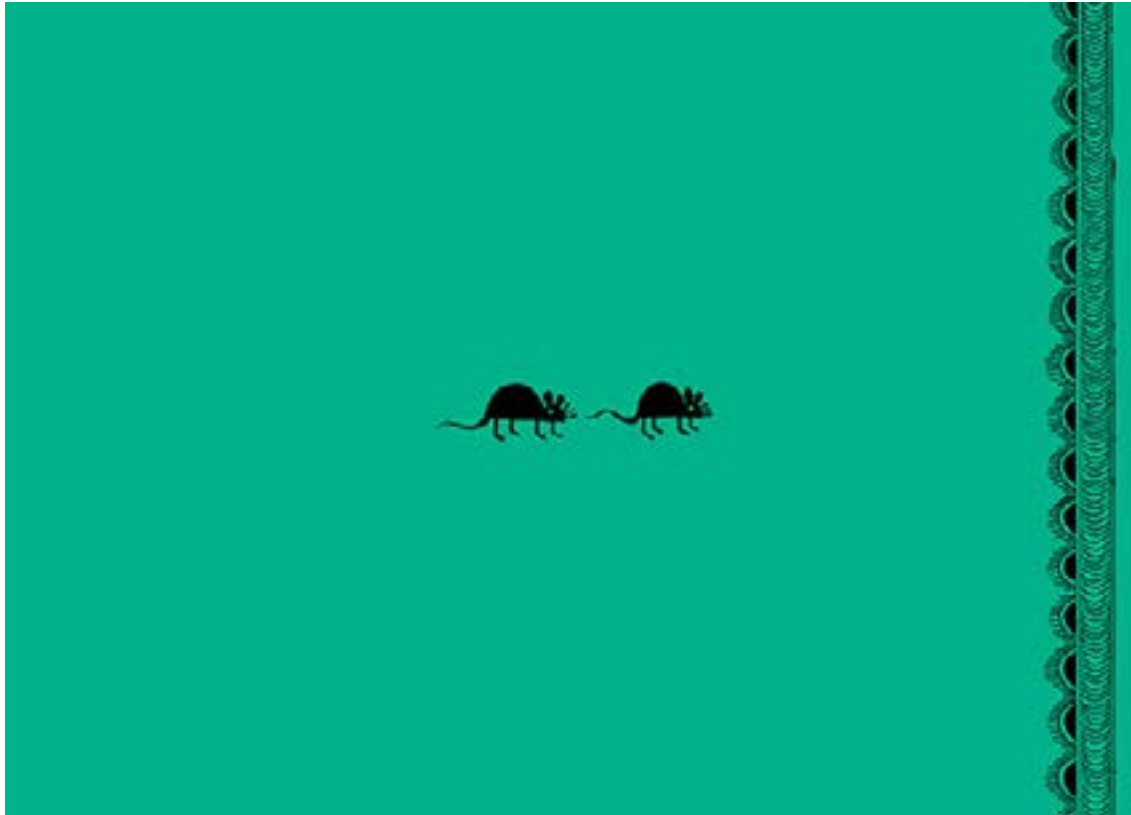

There used to lived few fat cats in a far-off village.

Few rats also used to live in the very same village.

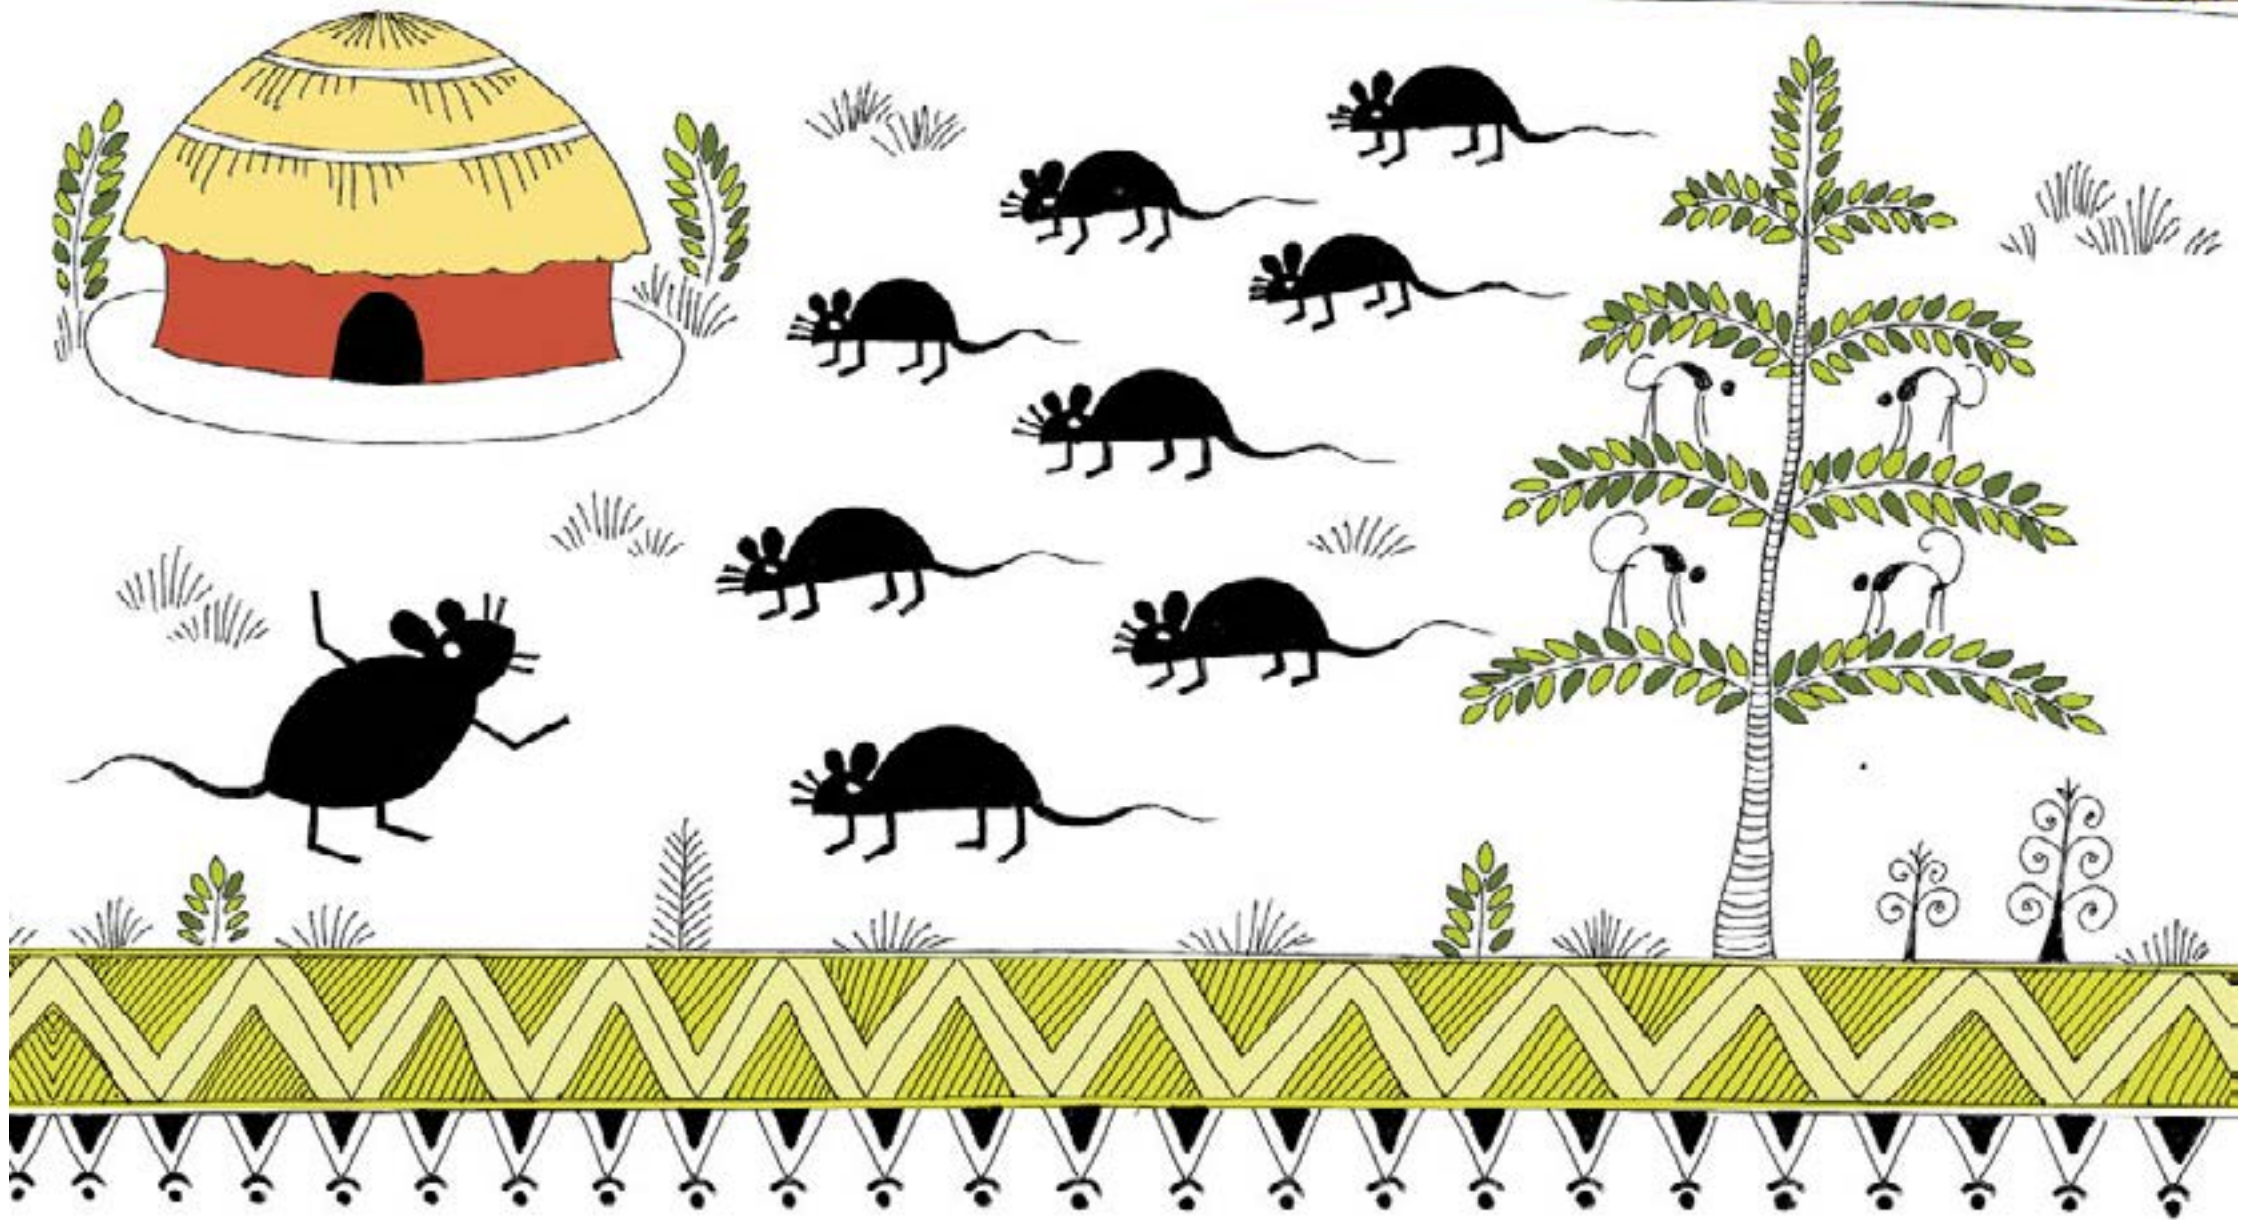

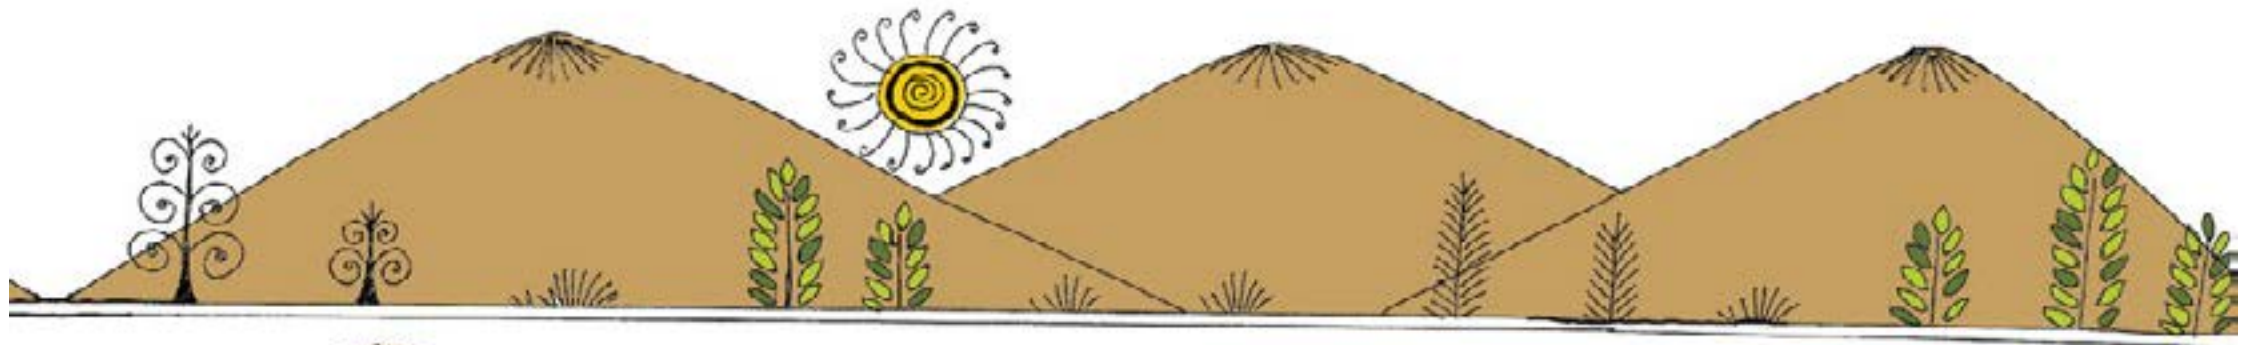

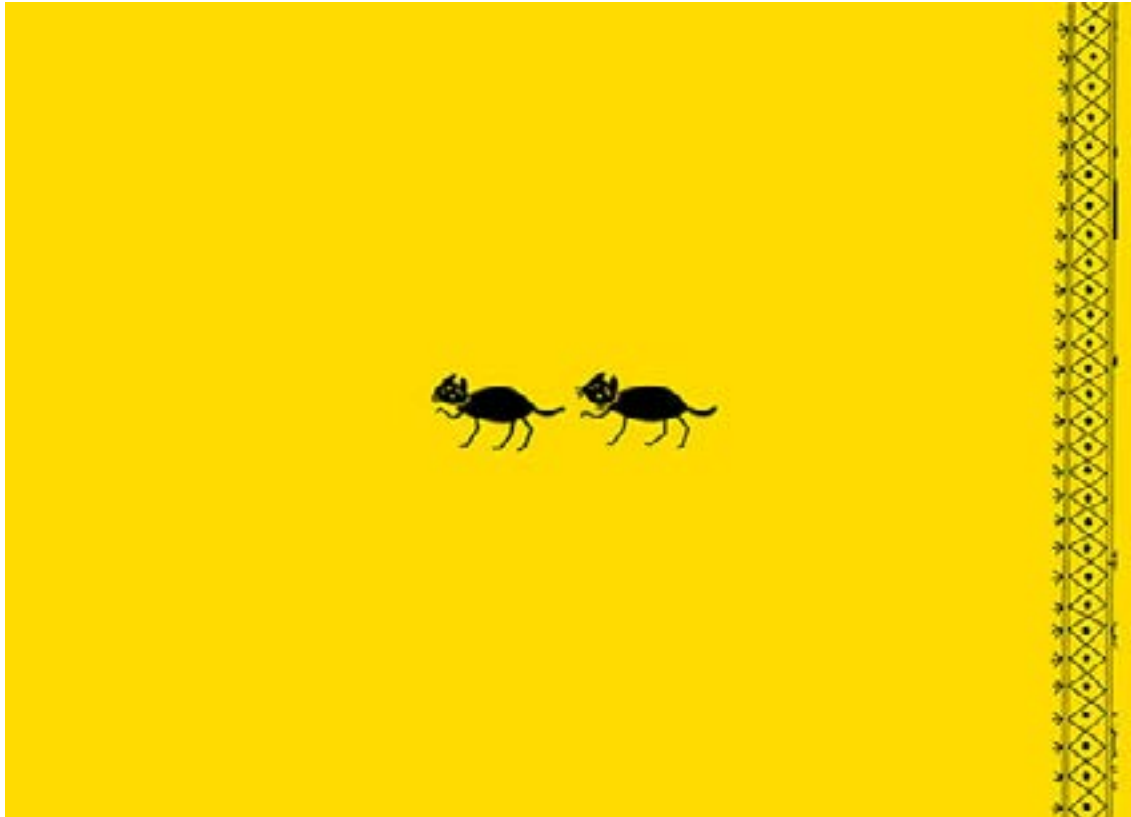

One day, the fat cats thought of having a feast.

The called the chef.

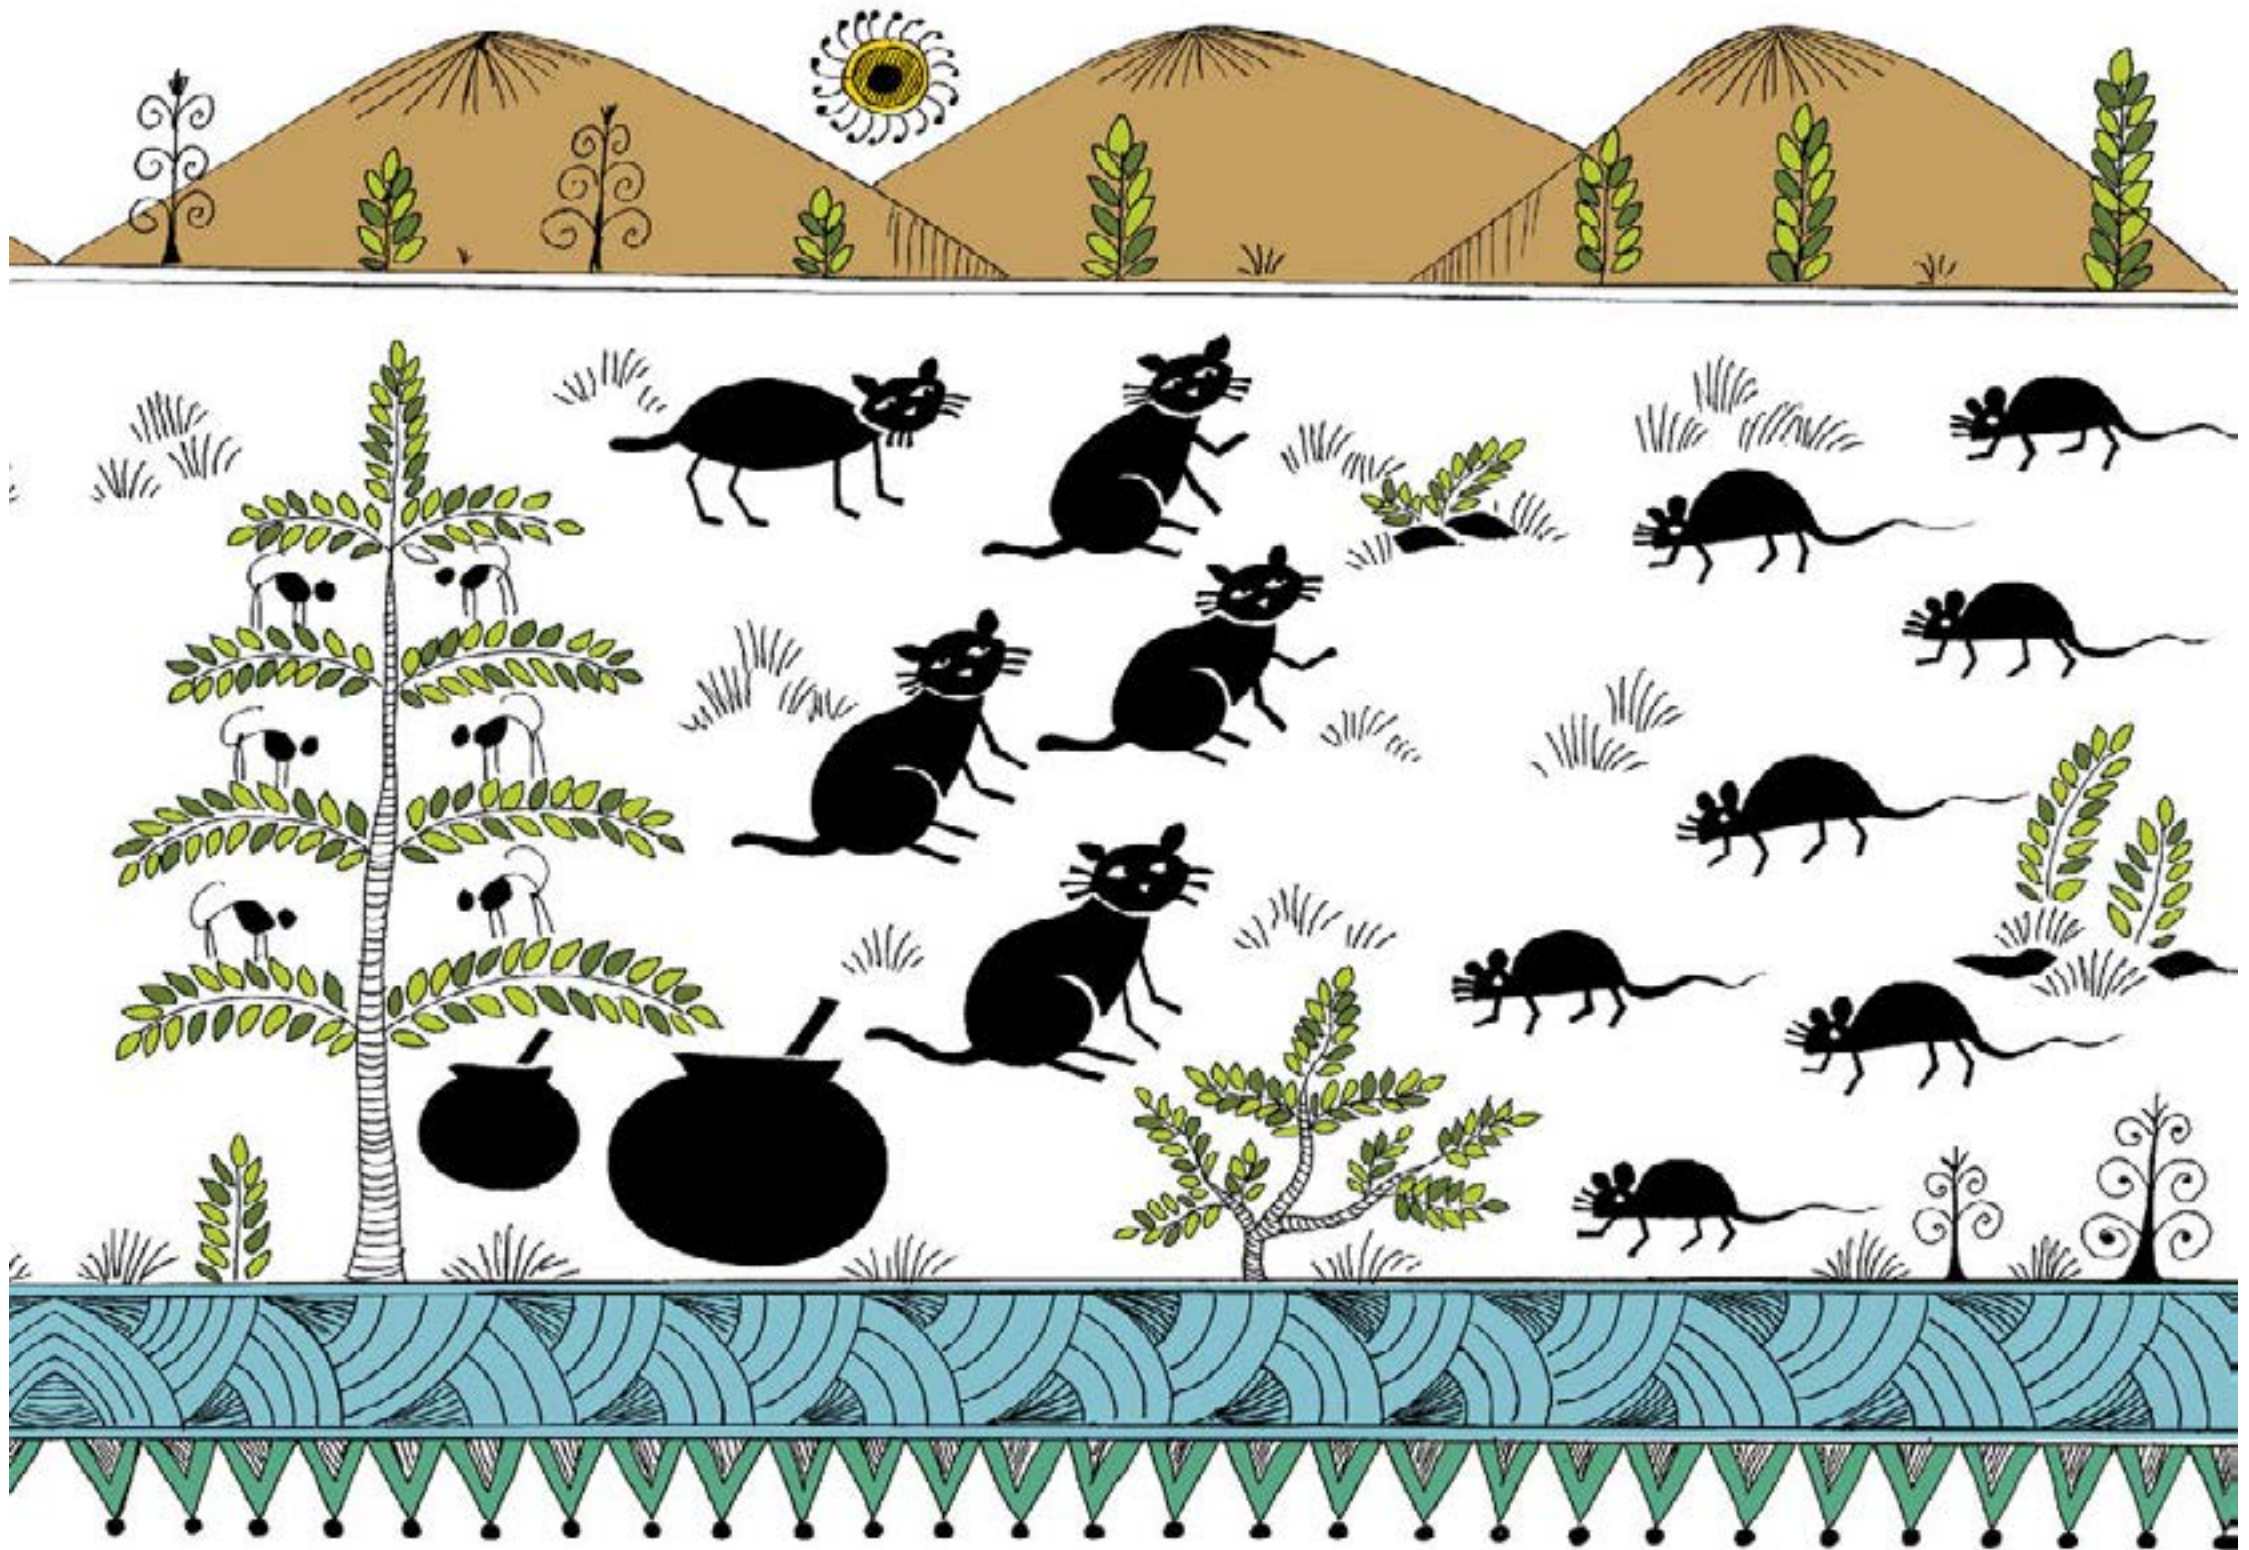

He lit up a fire and then cooked rice, pancakes and several other dishes.

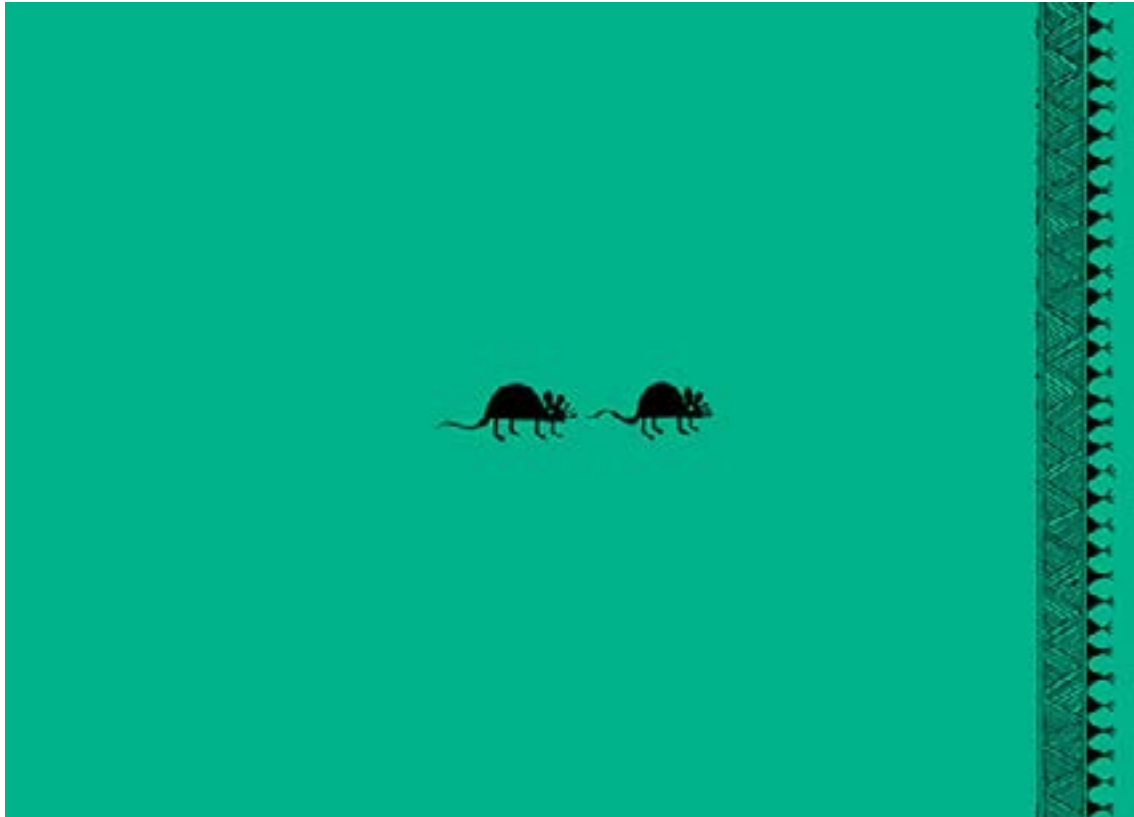

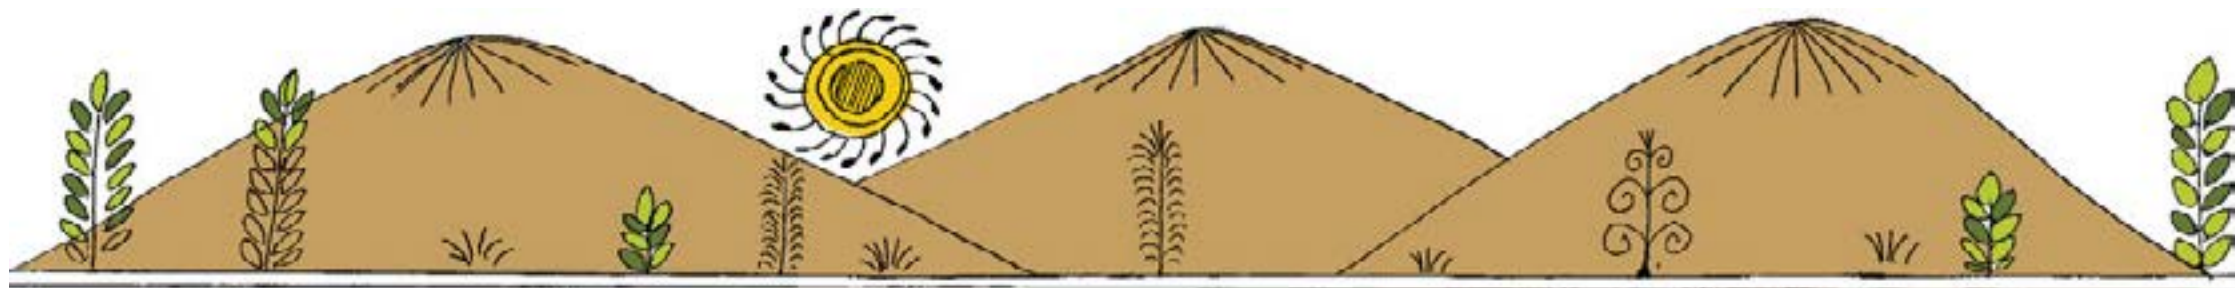

The rats were smelling the food and hence were getting very happy.

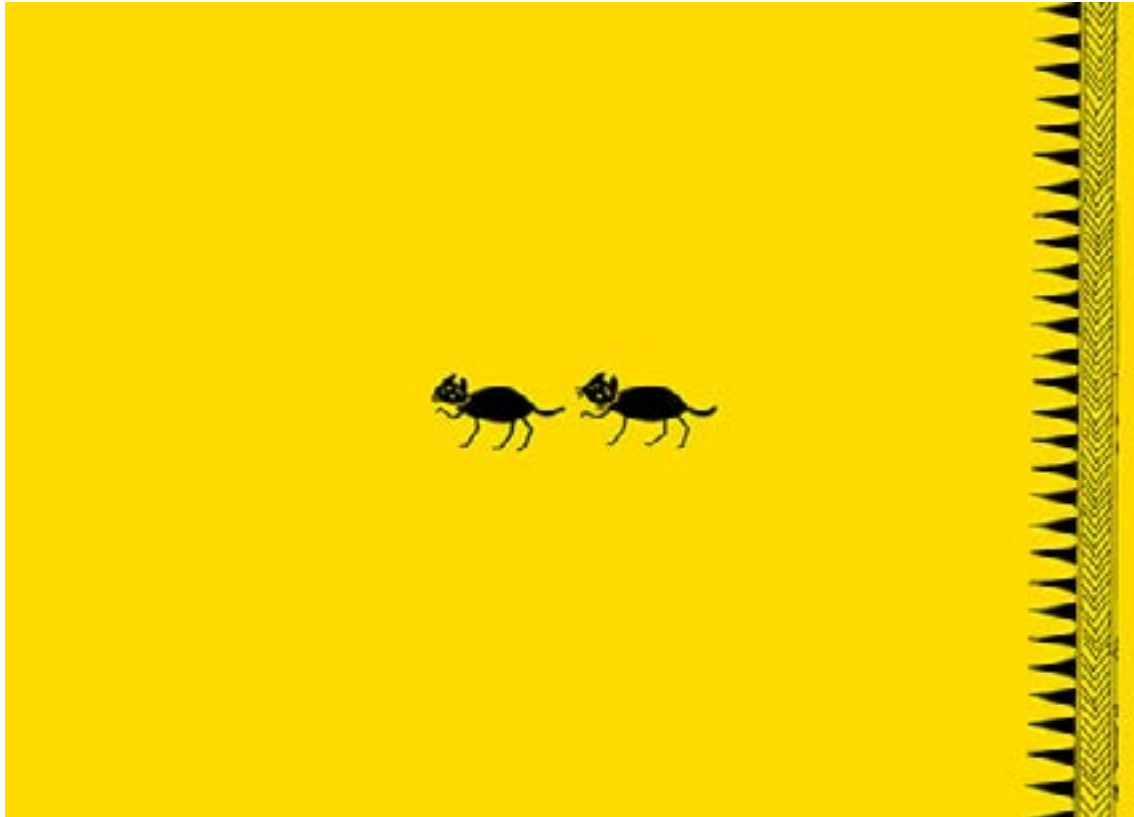

They asked their chief for a permission to attend the feast.

The rats went to the feast.

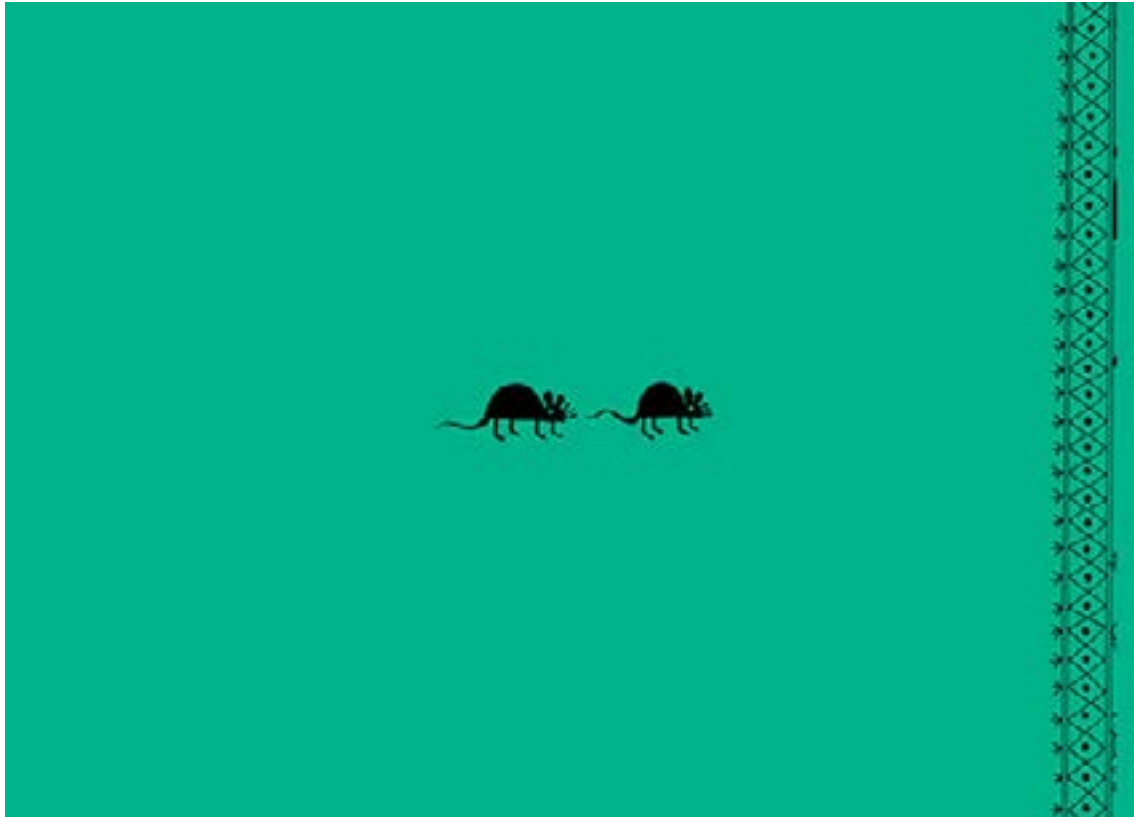

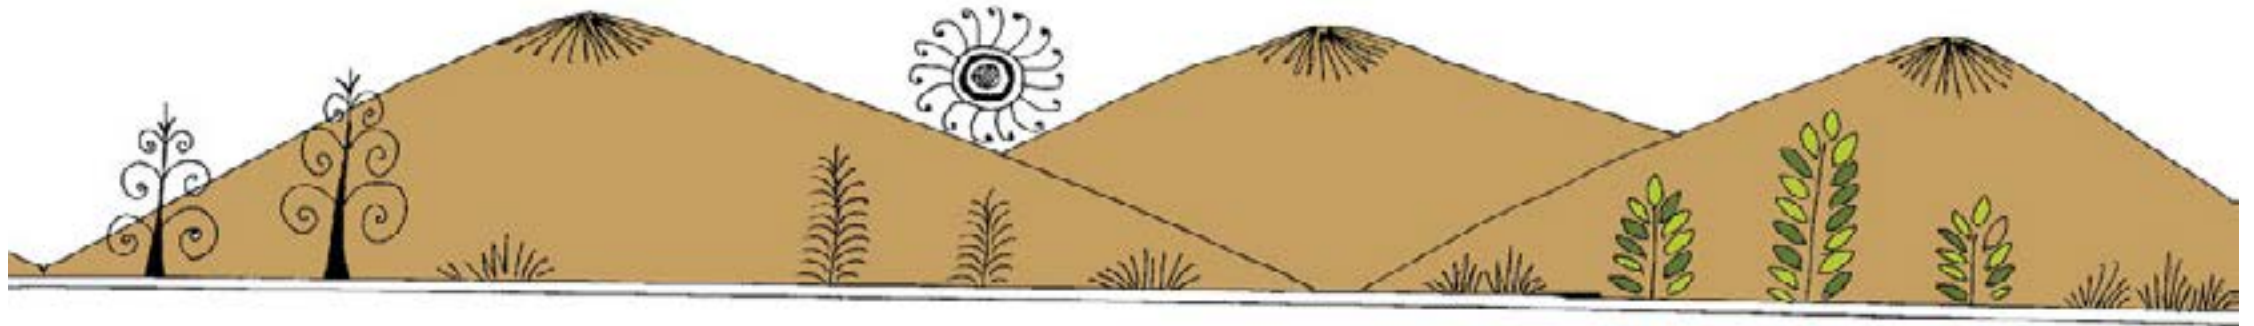

There was music playing and both cats and rats were dancing together.

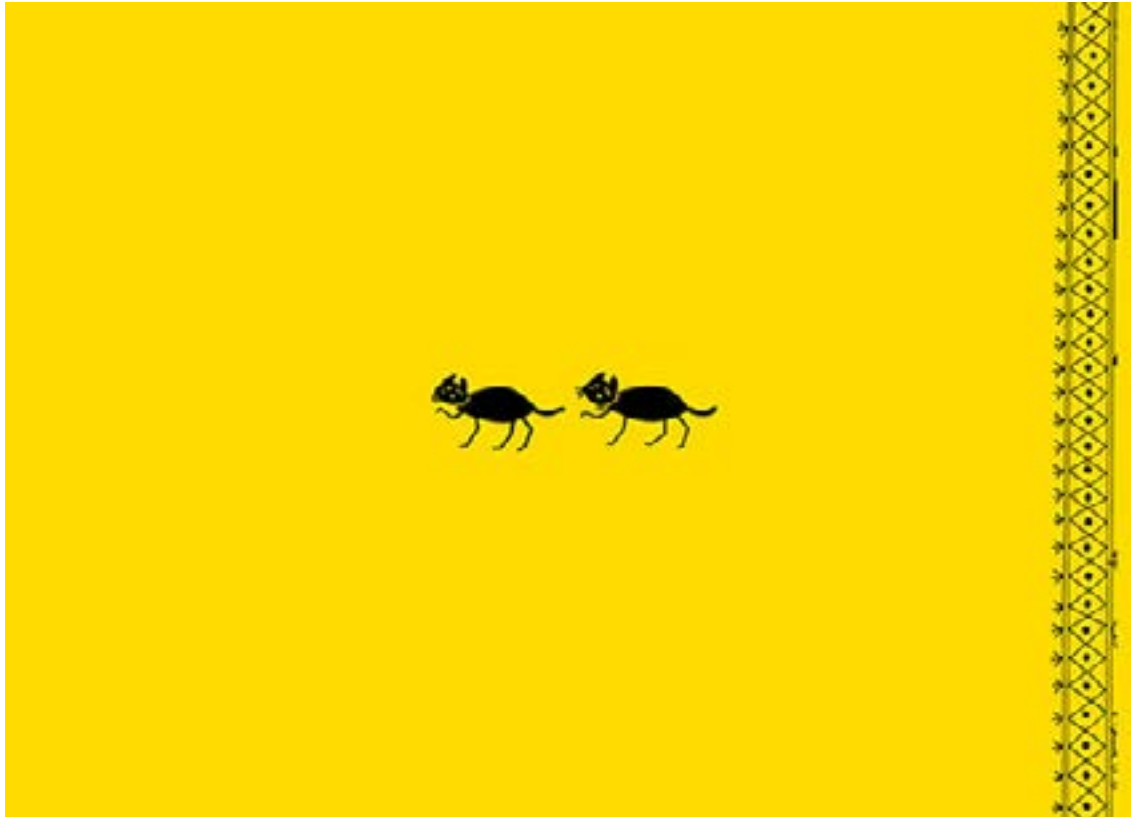

Several musical instruments were being played.

The rats knew the meaning of this.

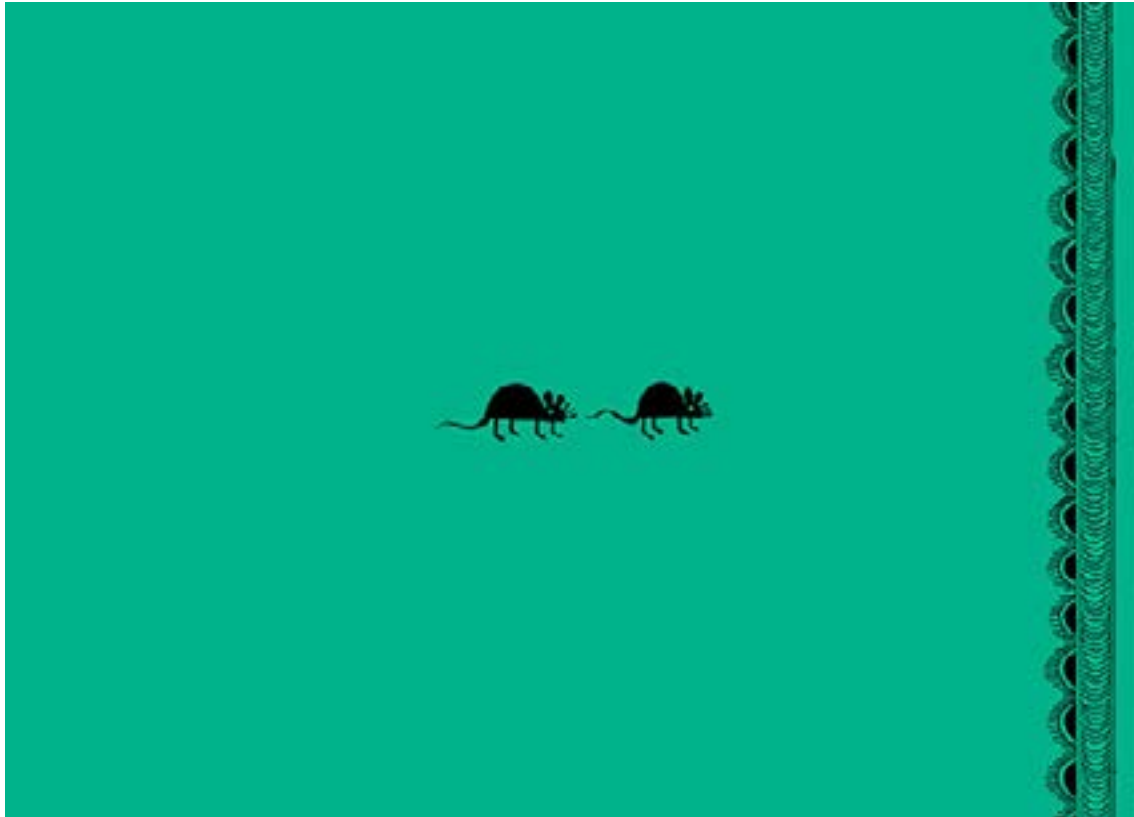

While dancing, they ran through their holes.

The fat cats had to accept their defeat.

Because what is a feast without tasty rats

This book was made possible by Pratham Books' StoryWeaver platform. Content under Creative Commons licenses can be downloaded, translated and can even be used to create new stories - provided you give appropriate credit, and indicate if changes were made. To know more about this, and the full terms of use and attribution, please visit the following link.